

ACTIVITY:

COLLECT EXAMPLES OF EXCELLENT TWITTER HEADLINES FOR SWIPE FILE

A swipe file is a collection of items saved from various sources that could be used later to inspire new work. The modern swipe file might be a bunch of links, screenshots, or written ideas, but how you collect and manage these pieces of inspiration is up to you.

Creating a swipe file of Twitter headlines can help inspire you later. Open up a Google Doc, download Evernote, or get a quick screenshot if you've got no time.

Make sure you note the detail that's important to you. This will help you remember WHY you added the item to the swipe file.

For example, maybe you want to record some great use of visuals with headlines:

Notes:

Tweet is too long, but I <3 the fun 60-second animated video!
